Teens in the Philippines do not always have the opportunity to attend school. Without a high school certificate, these young men and women will have no opportunities for employment. Consequently, they are often forced into prostitution or drug trafficking at very young ages, just to survive. The Maiden's Hope Home was started in 2018 to provide a Christian home and an education for 10 of these young ladies, offering them hope for the future in this life and in eternity with God. In 2018 our initial goal of $24,000 covered the first year of housing, food and education for the girls in the program. In 2019 we were able to expand the program to include the second floor of the building and allow an additional 5 girls to join the program. In 2020, we were able to add 1 unit on the first floor of the building, allowing us to add another girl to the program and spread out a bit. In addition, due to CoVid, we began homeschooling with our own certified teacher.

As we start our fifth year, we are very encouraged by the tremendous growth we have seen in the young ladies in the Maiden's Hope program. They are growing spiritually, they are moving ahead steadily in their education, and they are maturing in their relationships within the house; some taking on leadership roles while others are learning to follow basic house rules for family living.
